

Beauty

Alexis Braun, Paramount Salon, hair
Dave McFadden, Privé, makeup

Bridal Designer

Elizabeth Fillmore

Bridal Salon

M Bride, La Jolla, CA

Bridesmaids

A.B.S.

Cake

Cake Divas

Consultant

Jonathan Reeves, Mindy Weiss Party Consultants

Entertainment

West Coast Music, ceremony & reception

Floral & Event Design

Mark's Garden

Formalwear

Stefano Ricci

Headpiece/Veil Designer

Peter Langner

Honeymoon

Le Taha'a Private Island & Spa
Bora Bora Nui Resort & Spa

Invitations

JAM

Jewelry

Christian Dior

Lighting Design

The Lighter Side

Lingerie

La Perla

Mothers' Gowns

David's Bridal, MOB
Jones New York, MOG

Officiant

Reverend Clint Hufft

Photographer

Simone and Martin

Registries

Crate & Barrel
Macy's
Williams-Sonoma
Z Gallerie

Rehearsal Dinner

Mastro's Steakhouse

Rentals & Linens

Chameleon Chair
Ruth Fischl
Unique Tabletop Rentals

Shoes

Manolo Blahnik

Venue

Beverly Hills Hotel, ceremony & reception

Videographer

Vidicam

The flowers that decorated the cocktail hour were an extension of the ceremony's lush and dream-like display and a surprising contrast to the world that was waiting behind the closed doors of the reception. The ballroom's historic space was reinvigorated with a vibrant and whimsical décor. Tropical orchids, purple linens, dramatic lighting, and boxes of roses transformed the ballroom into a nightclub atmosphere complete with a spacious dance floor and several lounge areas. During breaks in the dancing, guests took advantage of the indoor couches to sip martinis dispensed from giant ice sculptures and garnished with blinking ice cubes. Outside in the repurposed garden, large white ottomans provided a quieter opportunity to enjoy hand-rolled cigars beneath the soft light of modern chandeliers.

Amanda and Jason's wedding cake also added a playful punch. The words "Just Married," written in large cartoon lettering, adorned the first of the cake's six square layers, which were covered in turquoise icing and spiked with sugar hearts and flowers. A crystal monogram of the newlywed's initials crowned the cake's top.